Mary Baldwin College

Bluestocking

"The mission of Mary Baldwin College is to provide undergraduate and graduate education consistent with the institution's rich heritage as a private liberal arts college primarily for women, which affirms its Christian roots while welcoming a broad diversity of views. This mission is implemented in the residential programs for women and the non residential programs for men and women over 21 through focus on teaching and learning; concern for the individual; commitment to the liberal arts as preparation for life, for careers, for graduate and professional studies, and for leadership; and emphasis on high ethical standards."

Charter Day

A Day of Honor

Charter day is a day freshmen are required to sign the Mary Baldwin Honor and Judicial codes. These codes hold students to the honor and judicial codes that are held in high regard on campus. These codes allow students to have take-home tests, self scheduled exams, and trust from professors. With the signing of the codes comes the promise to abide by them throughout her time at Mary Baldwin.

Orientation

*Moving into a new place is always hard...that's why
there are people
to help!*

OH THE PLACES YOU'LL GO! So was the theme of the 2001 orientation staff. Orientation leaders are the first students incoming freshmen, commuters, and transfers come in contact with when they arrive on campus in the fall. The orientation staff ensures that these students are comfortable and knowledgeable enough to find classes on Monday. Each student is assigned an orientation leader who serves as her big sister throughout the year. These enthusiastic leaders provided entertainment throughout the weekend ranging from movies, wal-mart trips, tours of the town, saturday night mixers, real deal, to convocation. Orientation week provides incoming students with a weekend of smooth transition into college life.

Right: Spencer 2 ladies Megan Murphy, Anna Newton, Ann Robinson, Stephanie Dove, and Stephanie Hatlem, have many more AppleDays to look forward too. From the looks on their faces they seem to be enjoying themselves.

Apple Day...Hard Core!!!

2001 Apple Day was Hard-Core!

The class of 2004, following in the tradition of the sophomores hosting Apple Day, provided Mary Baldwin College with an exciting and eventful Apple Day. Apple Day falls on a Wednesday in October. There is a carnival that is held on upper campus. At the carnival this year there were inflatable slides, moon bounces, laser tag, bobbing for apples, free pizza, and numerous other activities. Hunt dining hall provided the students with a brunch consisting of various apple dishes. Wednesday night there was a mixer which concluded the Apple Day festivities. Thanks class of 2004.

This Year the weather was perfect and so were the festivities!!!

Left: Hurry up Dorothy Coby you've got the head start, Krystal Cook is way behind you. The inflatable obstacle course is always a huge hit on Apple Day.

Below: Hey Sophomores get back to work. There is no time for apple cider breaks.

Above: Wow! Long line at the caricatures. This artist seems to be popular among the Baldwin crowd.

Left: Sophomores Shannon Ivy and Mindy, seem to be enjoying working the coke stand. Can I have a Diet Coke please?

Right: Emily Dixon and family are waiting their turn in the buffet line. Hidden behind those smiles are some hungry people. Don't worry it will be your turn soon.

Below: The Price and DeWint families are enjoying their meal. Eat up it will be all gone soon.

Above: STARS members, Kelly Wimmer and Leah Griffith, are always seen at MBC functions. Thanks for your work and effort ladies.

Right: Look at those flags. VWIL always displays the flags in all of the parades.

Left: These families seem to be in a deep conversation.

Left: Looks like there is a long time at the buffet. I guess that is because the food is so good.

Left: All smiles at this table, I guess the food was good.

Parents Day

2001 Parents Day

Founders' Day Convocation is a time when parents, students, Mary Baldwin's professors, Dean's and the President join to recognize the graduating class. We gather to "honor a founder and remember the woman who inaugurated MBC's heritage of leadership, Mary Julia Baldwin". Dean Buller recognized students for their achievements in academics such as those on Dean's and Honor's Lists. Tradition was kept in recognizing our Seniors who donned their cap and gowns. Founder's Day was first celebrated in 1842 and now falls in the month of Mary Julia Baldwin's birthday. Originally Parent's weekend was a chance to visit their daughters away from home. Many proud parents gathered to watch their "little girls" now, college educated women.

*Thank you
Parents for all that you have done for us.*

Right: These ladies, Katie Macola, sister Amy Macola and KT Koontz, still have time to chat while dancing.

Junior Dads 2002...Unforgettable

The Junior Dads event for the class of 2003 was simply Unforgettable, or so the theme stated. Junior Dads is an annual event that the junior class partakes in to celebrate reaching the point in their college career where they get their rings and can wear the ring with pride and class spirit.

The event is held in November of the junior year of college. The event is formal and parents come to witness the event. Most students chose to have their dad present them with their rings, however, the giver can vary from boyfriend, mother, sister, or good friend.

Class officers are responsible for making the decision concerning color, decorations, and music but usually involve the class when it comes to making the decisions. This year the colors were cream and pink.

One of the high points in a student's time in college!

Left: Good friends Anne and Laurn are glad to celebrate such a memorable night together.

Below: Look at these beautiful dresses and beautiful ladies, Kelly Gurley, Crissy Jurach, Julie Schmidt, Meredith Norris, Amanda Packett- Settle, Kathryn Vanzant, Lizzie Vogelbach and Diane Alford.

Christmas Cheer

Right: Wow! Is that KC Nelson or Justin Timberlake?

Right: Yah, Lizzie Vogelbach, you play that guitar. Never heard anything better!

Below: Awwww, Anne Pontius. What are you doing?

Right: Why, we didn't know that Dr. Dan and Dr. Well's were so musically talented.

Air Band...2002

Welcome to the 2002 MTV Video Music Awards also known as this year's theme to the annual Air Band. Thanks to Dr. Well's and Dr. Dan, and all of their wonderful students, yet another Air Band show has come and gone as a success. We had great guests such as NSYNC, J-Lo, and many more. The Air Band cosponsor this show with the TEAR club. Air Band, is the Sociology of Popular Cultures main event. This class educated on past music and its impact on society. The event is always looked forward to on campus. Thanks for providing us with such great entertainment Pop. Culture and Dr. Wells.

Roger Day

Come one come all, to Roger Day's Concert. Always an exciting event at MBC. Roger Day offers a time to kick back and relax with friends. It provides student's with a chance to get away from the books. This year BPB, held Roger Day in the Nuthouse.

Below: The Nuthouse is always a place to relax. Jen Kramb and Kate Frazer are enjoying the concert. These ladies have been singing so loud, they need a nice refreshment.

Above: Ms. Dorothy Coby's shirt says it all "BPB Event Tonight". All of the staff members are required to wear these bold attention getting shirts. Thanks for modeling for us Dorothy!

Right: There is Roger Day himself. Caught in the action of what he does best, singing.

Left: Nikkia Freeman makes a great snowcone, with lots of flavor. Just what you need to snack on while listening to a great song.

Below: Boy Roger got thirsty after all that singing. Let's give him a round of applause.

Oxford friends Meredith Norris and Leah Griffith use Roger Day as an reunion.

Are you having fun ladies? Blake Hite smiles YES!.

Below: Friends Katie Garth and Heather Faris take a picture for the yearbook. They wanted to show us how pretty their dresses are.

Around ■ ■ ■ ■ ■ MBC's ■ ■ ■ ■ ■ Campus

Mary Baldwin ladies know how to have a good time around campus. Many events such as those sponsored by BPB, allow us to take time, well needed, away from the books and homework.

Above: Good friends and good times well spent on Apple Day 2001. Juniors, Jennifer Cheatham, Barbara Lewis, Beth Fulton and LeAnn Hinton, are having a great time. We like those tattoos ladies.

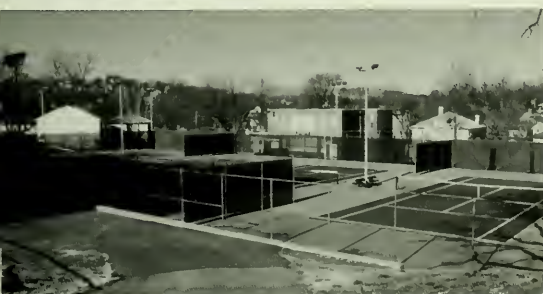

Right: Or you can always get off campus by going to a Bridgewater College football game like these ladies. Cierra Alston, Rachel , Alexis Wakely, Amber Rose, Joy Garrett, Nikitra Walker, TQ Jabari and Cambria Watson, root on Bridgewater as they defeat Shenandoah 48-0.

Left: Just another night at Baldwin. Best friends, Diane Alford, Crissy Jurach, Julie Schmidt, Katie Macola and Meredith Norris have a date to celebrate Katie's 21st birthday. They had fun!

Below: Friends Heidi Woodcock and Tiffany Shumack gather to take a lasting memory of Tiffany in her cap and gown on Founders' Day.

Left: The tennis courts are a good place to let loose. They offer a place to take out our frustrations.

What do you have to say about MBC?

Junior Lizzie Vogelbach is seen here at the Jefferson Hotel over Spring Break. She reflects on Baldwin saying, "good times, great oldies, and my, I can't get away from stairs and hills". Too many hills on this campus.

Academics

Our Faculty

You can go so far with an education from Mary Baldwin College. After all ignorance is not an excuse. Knowledge is power and we have our wonderful Mary Baldwin faculty and staff to thank.

Mary Baldwin students and faculty and staff are treated with respect at our institution. We have our wonderful honor system.

Our classes here offer the students a chance to challenge themselves.

Mary Baldwin's faculty and staff are always willing to offer extra help or a chance to sit and talk.

Thanks for all of your hard work.

The Business Administration department prepares students for the business world. Students are taught about demands of enterprises and how to balance the needs of the consumer. Law and accounting classes are a key to the business administration major.

The Economics Department allows students to evaluate the relationships between institutions to economic development. Our professors taught their students "to predict, recognize and respond to market trends and patterns of growth and decline".

Each year Computer Science students excel, with many more programs and concepts. Students receive hands on training in BASIC, and Pascal, along with many other programs. Computer literacy in the work place is expanding rapidly. Mary Baldwin, wants its students to be familiar with such programs.

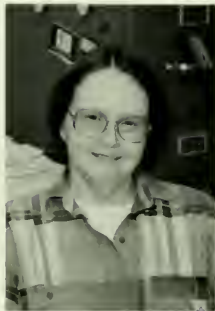

History and Political Science

In order to understand the present and predict the future, one must first comprehend the past. We use history as a tool for studying the past. Mary Baldwin offers a wide variety of history classes in both American History and European History.

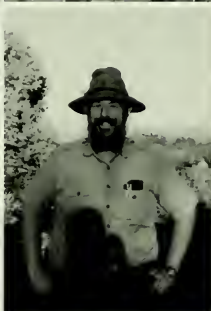

Our history professors include, Ken Keller, Mary Hill Cole, and Katherine Franzen.

In a similar area of study, political science students attempt to understand politics and the way government works. We offer classes in American Government, International Relations, Contemporary Politics and Women in Politics.

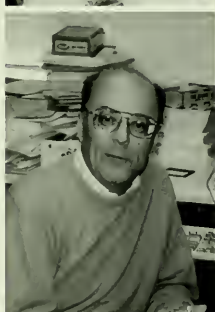

Professors in Political Science include, Laura vanAssendelft, Gordon Bowen, Jean Donovan, Sally Ludwig and Steven Mosher.

Drugs, rats and men? Does those topics sound familiar? Well they do if you are a psychology or sociology student.

You may begin by taking an introduction course to psychology, followed by child and adolescent psychology to Experimental and Quantitative Methods. One of the experiments that you may work on are the lab rats and their behaviors.

The Psychology department has done a good job, keeping the rats behind closed doors and educating our students.

Or on the other hand, you could be a Sociology or Social Work student, where you would study men, drugs and society and sociology of popular culture.

One of the most popular events on campus is the Sociology of Popular Culture, annual Air Band Show.

This entertaining event allows students and their professors to show another side. They team up to put on a talent show for us with the best music in our past and present society.

Math and Science

The mathematics and science classes we are offered is wonderful.

We can take classes such as, Biology, Chemistry, Biochemistry, Medical Technology and Physics. Students may choose to do Pre-Med or Pre-Veterinary training as an emphasis in their major.

Students enjoy biology because they like to explore, ask questions and solve problems. In Chemistry students are able to observe, calculate and solve equations.

A lot of background in math is helpful in sciences.

Our math staff includes, Michael Gentry, Rebecca Williams, and John Ong.

If you a math major you might go on to teach math, engineering or computer software.

Executive Committee

Mission Statement: We, as the 2001-2002 Student Government Association Executive Committee, will continuously strive to make students aware that we are the Executive Committee - the students elected by them to serve them. We aim to do this through a positive, upbeat, collective presence at both campus events and social activities. By doing this we aim to be positive role models encouraging students to take an active role in developing and making this campus theirs.

A HYMN FOR MARY BALDWIN

Melody Scandinavian Folk Song
arr. by G.P.

To these halls where Wisdom reckons,
To these hills where Beauty dwells;
Where the search for Learning beckons,
Where its tumult ever swells,

Here we bring our childhood visions
Stirring in the quest for Truth;
Here we forge the mind's decisions
Tempered by the faith of youth.

Friendship, honor, sorrow, laughter
Are the ways by which we learn.
Knowledge first, then wisdom after,
Love that seeks not for return.

When we reach the last tomorrow
Of our days in class, on field
We will know how we must borrow,
Mary Baldwin, from thy yield.
